

10
TOP TIPS

TO KEEPING YOUR BUSINESS SAFE

COMMERCIAL ROLLER SHUTTERS

The ultimate cheat sheet to help keep your business secure.

OUR PROMISE. YOUR PROTECTION.

Alarm system

Installing a robust business alarm system is a must.

This is the first line of defence your business will have if someone manages to break in. Alarms can alert neighbouring properties and passersby.

We recommend systems that alert a local police force or security company as they provide added protection.

2

Good locks

Ensure your locks meet British standards as if not your insurance policy may be invalid.

Sounds pretty obvious but these locks are tested to make sure they provide adequate protection - without them, your business property may be put at risk from break-ins. With secure locks and roller shutters in place, you'll be adding a great deal more time on to the amount of time it takes for a thief to break-in to your premises.

Installing CCTV

Installing CCTV is necessary to keeping your business secure.

These can be monitored wirelessly through an app so even when you're not in the property you can keep an eye on what's happening.

Additionally in the event of a break-in, with CCTV you can provide proper evidence against the offender. CCTV cameras can also deter thieves away from your property and act as a preventative strategy.

4

Register guests

Be sure to register any guests when they enter the premises.

Be sure to give them an ID badge. Your employees should also be equipped with ID, this reduces the chances of strangers walking freely around without being identified as trespassers.

Hiring screening

Hiring screening is a great preventive measure, this can check for any previous criminal offences the individuals you're looking at hiring may have.

This can be done before offering interviews and jobs. This strategy can help to reduce the chances of employee theft.

6

Security training

Implement an employee security training programme.

This can help to keep your workplace safe as employees can be taught how to take the correct measures in ensuring the building is securely locked and important documents, money and passwords are kept safe.

Don't leave cash

Make sure you don't leave any cash in the property overnight.

You could organise for a specialist cash collection agency such as G4S to come and collect it. If you don't use one of these agencies and do it yourself, make sure you vary the time of day and route in which you travel to the bank to ensure you're safe.

Make things secure

Commercial burglars often plan to use different entry and exit routes.

Remember this when securing your property to make sure you have multiple lines of defence both at the front and rear of the property such as roller shutters over doors and windows.

Roller shutters

Installation of commercial roller shutters is necessary for most businesses.

These can deter thieves from smashing glass to gain entry into a property as they provide an extra layer of defence for your premises.

Motion sensor lighting

Install motion sensor lighting around the outside of your property, this will increase the chances of deterring nighttime burglaries and neighbouring properties may notice suspicious behaviour if the area around is well lit.
